Welcome to SIZZLE

GREG PETTIS

President, Desert Business Association

Welcome to the desert's first Gay Pride Night! The Desert Business Association hopes you have a wonderful evening full of laughs, fun, enjoyment, and just plain feeling good about yourself and who you are.

Tonight culminates an entire month of activities across the county celebrating Gay Pride. Along with Palm Springs, the cities of San Francisco, Chicago and New York are also having special events today.

In the years since Stonewall, our community has taken great strides in public awareness and acceptance, in understanding ourselves and each other, and in supporting one another. Yes, there is still a long way to go, but the foundation has been laid for us to build upon.

Sit back and enjoy yourself tonight. You're going to have a Sizzling evening!

ROBERT HOVEN

Chairman, Sizzle Program

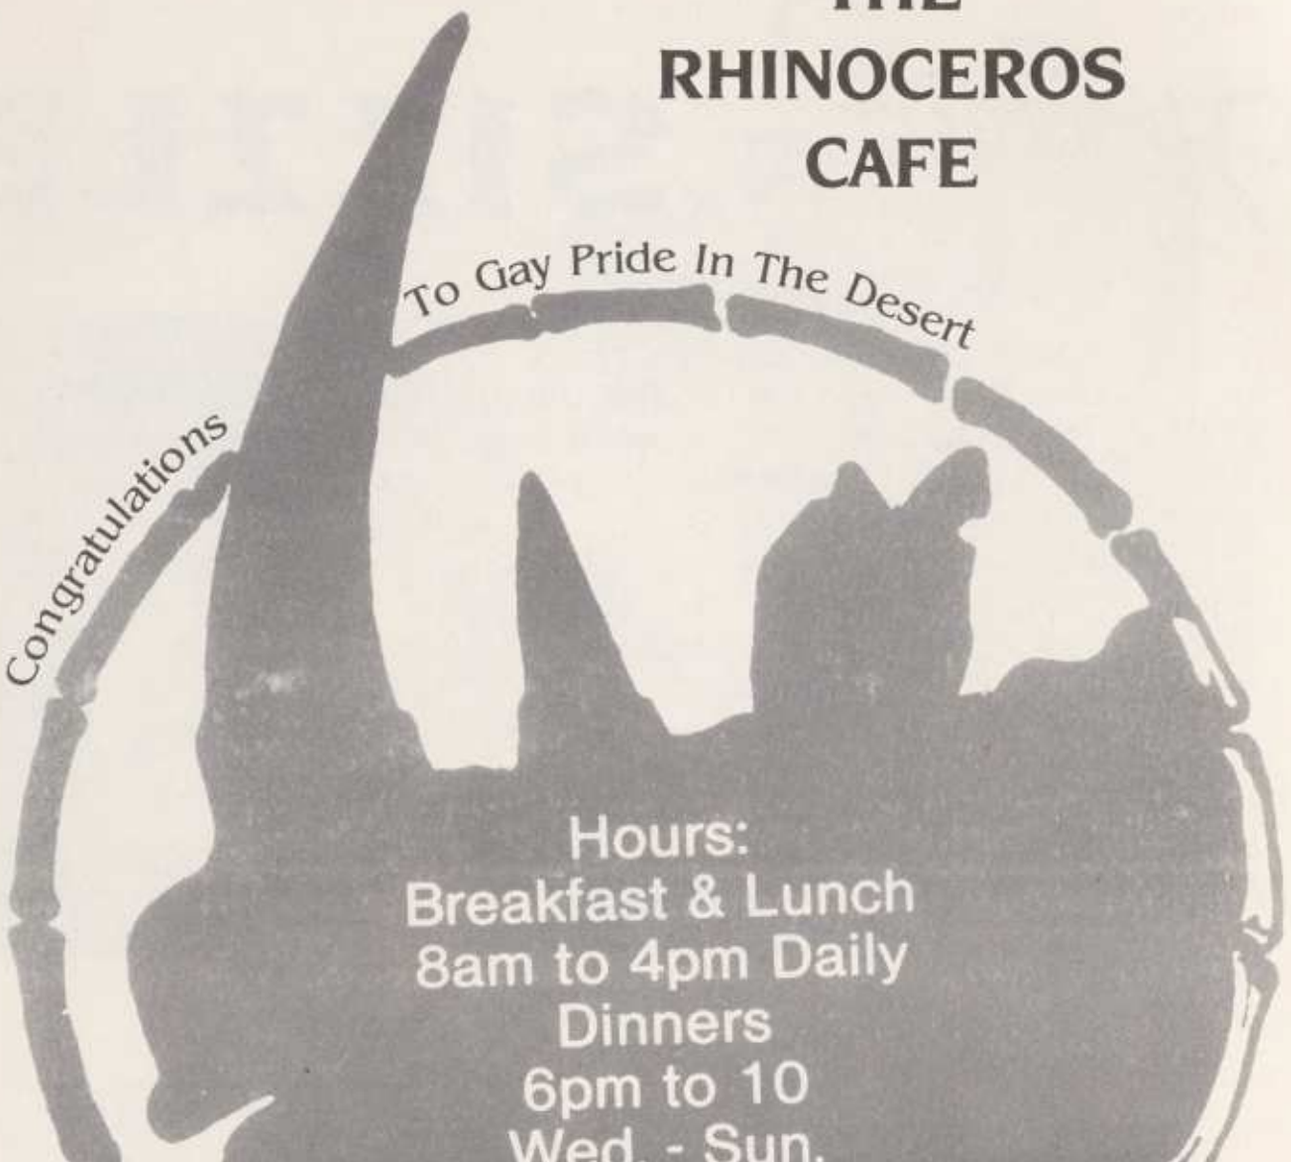

Welcome to SIZZLE! For the first time in our Coachella Valley's magnificent desert we celebrate Gay Pride officially. Tonight's entertainment event will, hopefully, initiate an annual celebration.

Thank you for joining us tonight. Thanks to each of you who have volunteered your time to help make this event successful.

Special thanks to Gordon Chaves, Peter Romich, Wayne Pitts, Chuck Duncan, Jim Condon, Greg Pettis, Doug Greig and Wayne Cox for your extraordinary help in making SIZZLE a great beginning.

Now, let us go Forward, Together!

WE MEAN BUSINESS

SUCCESS STORY

Everyone loves a success story, and the Desert Business Association has been a succession of success stories since it's inception. Each administration has contributed a new chapter, a new emphasis, a new horizon, through the dedication and determination of it's membership.

It was over lunch at Billy Reed's in December 1979 that the DBA was conceived. Debbie Gendron (then pastor of MCC), Fred Hardt (a brand new hotel owner to the desert), and Ted Schneider (a local businessman) called the first meeting to order. About a dozen other community leaders were present.

Fred Hardt was elected president and the long process of foundation laying began. The country was combed for an organization to model the DBA after. The Key West Business Guild was chosen because of it's likeness to our economy and to this day there are many similarities. Committees were formed, by-laws polished, newsletter inaugurated, and by July of 1980 a record number of 75 members attended the general membership meeting. The membership list had reached 180 by the end of the first administration.

During the second year, growing pains plagued the Desert Business Association. A divisiveness of direction caused bitter battles and the DBA lost about 45% of it's membership. This loss, however, was not unlike the pruning of a tree. New, stronger growth replaced the deadwood that had been removed.

In March of 1982, Ray Manheimer was elected president, but found it necessary to resign after four months.

Waiting in the wings was the prescription for the problem. Linda Decker, the daughter of diplomacy, took over as the fourth president and thus began the healing process. Communication is the word that would best sum up Linda Decker's presidency. She devoted more time and energy during her eight months in office than anyone in the history of the DBA to this day.

John Stewart became president in 1983. The pace for the year was set at John's installation dinner meeting with the mayor of Palm Springs as guest speaker. From that point the DBA became a far more credible and recognized organization. Aside from this exposure, John used his administrative talents to put the DBA on a more secure businesslike basis, with fund raisers and social events doting the calendar. It was during this year that the Desert Community Outreach branched off on it's own from one of the DBA committees. The DBA was also extremely involved in the highly successful Desert AIDS Benefit.

The onslaught of AIDS influenced the next administration more than anything else. As sixth president of the DBA, Ron Christenson led the way to the formation of the Desert AIDS Project, served as it's treasurer, and as treasurer of the National Association of Business Councils.

In March of 1985, the present president, Greg Pettis, took office. During the first of his two terms, the Pettis Administration has strengthen and streamlined the Desert Business Association. It has shown us that we can flex our political muscle in a responsible manner.

Now what is the future focus? The DBA has successfully laid it's foundation. It has been successful in defining it's direction. It has successfully learned from it's mistakes. The DBA has been a success in healing it's wounds through communication, in being recognized, and in functioning in a businesslike manner. It has successfully been the parent organization to other equally needed groups. It has been a success in showing it's strength. What IS the future focus?

Won't YOU join the Desert Business Association and become a part of it's next success?
